

FRAGILE

LOVE FLIPPER AND HIS FRIENDS? MAKE SURE YOUR KIDS CAN, TOO.

Our oceans are being pushed to the brink of irreversible collapse by destructive fishing and pollution. If we don't act now, abundant oceans – filled with turtles, dolphins and thousand-year-old corals – may soon only be a memory.

SCARED OF SHARKS? THEY SHOULD BE AFRAID OF US.

Our oceans are being pushed to the brink of irreversible collapse due to destructive fishing and pollution. If we don't act now, sharks - which have been around for 450 million years - may soon only be a memory.
